

Testimonials from Dr. Harris' Clients

From Female Clients :

"I have been a client of Dr. Harris's for over ten years and consulted her on various issues, from relationships to emigration. Her forecasting of years when my children would be born was particularly helpful." NP.

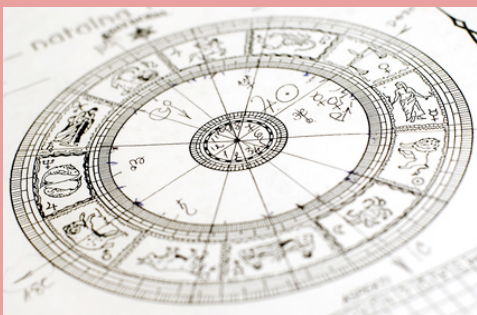

"Dr. Harris has advised me over the last twelve years on relationships and family decisions and I found her different astrological approaches provided extremely helpful insights. I highly recommend her services." JP.

"I am a freelance writer in TV, film and books and Dr. Harris has been doing regular horary (question) charts for me over the years. Her advice has helped me to focus on the right goals and who or what to put my faith in!" LDR.

From Male Clients :

"Her incredible insight into my personality has given me the courage and purpose to persevere with projects that I might have abandoned otherwise," NG.

"I found Dr. Harris's analysis to be very insightful, helping me to understand how to make best use of the astrological opportunities that were coming my way. Her clear and informative style is to be commended and would be suitable for everyone, from those who know astrology to those who have never used it before." DM.

Dr. Pat A. Harris is an experienced consultant astrologer with a doctorate in health psychology and has been in practice for over 25 years.

Dr. Harris received her diploma in astrology from the Faculty of Astrological Studies, London, UK in 1982. She has training in counselling and has a Master's degree and PhD both from the University of Southampton where she researched how astrology could help in managing health issues such as chronic pain and infertility.

She has had numerous articles published both in popular magazines such as Prediction and also in academic journals such as the Journal of Sexuality, Reproduction and Menopause.

From her university research she developed a unique model that can help people achieve better balance and greater happiness in life by using astrology to increase self-awareness and a better sense of timing in the navigation of personal life challenges.

Dr. Harris can help
YOU with:

- Career Choice and Management
- Astrology for a healthy life
- Relationships
- Fertility Astrology

Managing chronic pain with astrology

Between 1995 and 1996, Dr. Harris carried out a study based at an NHS hospital in the south of England where she interviewed six different patients on the pain management programme. She provided astrological reports with comments to the clinical psychologist in charge, on each patient's psychology and individuality and how problems in these areas might be hindering their rehabilitation. The clinical psychologist compared these with his own reports and found that astrological analysis could provide useful information. In one case, Dr. Harris uncovered post-traumatic stress disorder that had gone undetected for seven years.

Using astrology to increase fertility treatment success

In her astrological practice, Dr. Harris had noted how traditional astrological factors often reliably predicted years in which women had children. She tested this association in two studies (involving one private and 2 NHS fertility clinics) carried out between 2000 and 2003 for her doctoral thesis. Dr Harris looked at the outcomes of 169 fertility treatments (20 resulting in the births of live babies) experienced by 67 women and found a strong association between absence and presence of certain astrological factors and success and failure of the treatment outcome. Successful outcome of a treatment where astrology was present was significant regardless of the age of the woman.

Which kind of consultation or service do you need?

Meeting with your consultant

Face-to-face consultations, which are arranged by appointment, can take between one and one and a half hours and further sessions can be arranged if you feel that you need them. You will be able to work together with Dr. Harris, working out the best ways to use astrology to help you.

Consultations via telephone or email

Single question issues such as: Shall I buy this house? Will I get this job? Should emigrate? etc. can be made by phone or email.

Dr. Harris will then provide her report by email or by phone in reply. You don't need to know your birth details (i.e. time, date and place of birth) for question astrology (better known as horary astrology).
